ANNOUNCEMENTS.

WE ARE AUTHORIZED TO ANNOUNCE W. P. SANDIDGE, a candidate for Circuit Judge of the Seventh Judicial district, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT says his favorite bird is the robin. From recent utterances one would have guessed it as the stork.

Just about the time a man gets fixed on money matters to enjoy himself, he is too broken down, worn out and torn up to even sleep well.

A WOMAN who lived to be 102 years old, in her formula for attaining great age, gives the paradoxical rules, "Let nothing worry you. Get married."

It is said that statistics show 51,538 divorced persons in the United States. This goes to show that divorces are not the exclusive property of the 400.

A BLIND couple ran away and were married in Massachusetts the other day. Of course, all such people are blind more or less, but these were literally so.

In showing a boy how to load a revolver a Tennessee woman accidentally ended his life with a bullet. It is possible to be too practical in giving instructions.

for the Democratic nomination for Governor was made by Hon. J. K. Hendrick last Sunday. This leaves the field to Gov. Beckham.

Snap Shots.

Fear the person who deals in scandal. If they tell things to you about other folks, they will tell worse things about you to the next listener.

The fellow who puts his trust in riches is apt also to put his riches in trusts.

The excuses which some people make for their actions almost convinces that there is something new under the sun.

People who do not read some are not apt to entertain when they talk.

A supply of money would make some folks disagreeable who are now very pleasant and companionable. A stingy man, no matter how much he accumulates of lands, money and property, is the very poorest of God's creatures.

People are prone to applaud any successful movement, whether it is right or wrong.

A sweet tooth often makes a sour stomach.

The most popular person is not always the one who is nearest right in his actions.

Don't talk about anyone. Talk to them.

If you have anything to say that is not pleasant about a person, say it to him. If you tell somebody else, he will get it, anyhow, probably in a distorted form.

Concentration of industries by the trusts may be in the interest of economy, but it works many individual and local hardships. Not long ago the cotton duck combination closed a mill in New Hartford, Conn., which was about the only industry of the place, and now the Mt. Vernon mills, near Baltimore, have been closed, ostensibly on account of the high price of cotton. But it is really a step in the direction of concentrating all the production in the mills nearest to the cotton fields. The Stark mills, in Manchester, N.

H., have been dismantled, and it is expected that the mills at Mount Washington and Franklinville, Md., will be closed when they have worked up the stock on hand. New England is likely to retain the greater part of the manufacture of the finer goods, but the production of coarse and heavy cotton fabrics is moving toward the source of supply.

Enlightened Self-Interest.

It is a comfortable theory, for the widespread acceptance of which Mr. Herbert Spencer is partly responsible, that more is to be expected from an enlightened self-interest than from a policy of coercion. For example, it is assumed that a railroad corporation will voluntarily use all practicable means to protect the public from injury, because it would be required to pay more in damages for the injuries than a system of prevention would cost. It has been argued that a railroad company has a direct selfish interest in fostering the prosperity of any section it may traverse; therefore, if left to its own methods it will allow low rates of transportation on whatever is to be used to build up the towns which will make its future business larger and more profitable. In fact, however, the corporation imposes the highest rates, as though it must make the most out of the present, without regard to the future.

A striking instance of the shortsightedness of great corporations is seen in the tunnel policy of the New York Central Railroad. It was notorious that the safety equipment of the tunnel at White Plains was defective. Trainmen were in constant expectation of a disaster, and it was known to all the officials of the company that only good fortune and not foresight had postponed a costly smashup. At last it came, and as a result of the Coroner's inquiry the officials were indicted for willful negligence. Of the many suits against the company for the death of passengers five have been decided. One widow has been awarded $60,000, another $100,000, another $40,000, another $38,500 and the three daughters of one victim $75,000—or a total of $313,500 in a small proportion of the cases. That the cost will be many times what it would have been necessary to expend to prevent the horror is beyond a doubt. Other corporations take no warning from this experience.

It is apparent that it will not do to trust to an enlightened self-interest for the protection of the people. Steamboats are allowed to carry too many passengers, the owners and officers neglecting proper equipment; hotels and other public buildings are not always rigidly inspected because of the misplaced trust in the self-interest of the proprietors; yet it is plain that those who are expected, as a matter of money as well as of conscience, to protect the public are ready to take enormous chances in order to effect a momentary saving.

Sea water is being used to extinguish the burning colliery of the Dominion Coal Company, Nova Scotia. Through a sluice cut from a dam on the shore of the ocean, sea water is pouring in at the rate of some three and a half million gallons an hour. The pit is flooded up to the seventh level, but four more must be reached before the fire can be extinguished. In other words, 450,000,000 gallons of water will be needed, and six days' time require.

Grim Grasp Caused Heart Disease.

Could Not Lie On Left Side.

Dr. Miles' Heart Cure and Nerve Cured Me.

Mrs. H. R. Jobe, formerly of Birmingham, Ala., writes from Eldridge, the same state, as follows:

"It is with the greatest pleasure that I recommend Dr. Miles' Nerve and Heart Cure. I only wish that I could tell every sufferer how much good they have done me. Last winter I had a severe attack of La-Grappe, which left my heart in a very bad condition. I could not lie down for the smothering spells that would almost overcome me and the feeling of oppression around my heart. I had not been so that I could lie on my left side for a long time. I got your Heart Cure and took three bottles. I have no trouble now with my heart and can lie on my left side as well as my right. Formerly I had suffered for years with nervous prostration. I had tried so many remedies that I had got clear out of heart of getting anything that would help me. The nerve of my heart were so affected that sometimes it would lose beats so it would seem to stop altogether. It was on the advice of a lady friend that I tried your Kestner's Nerve. I felt better after the first few doses and two bottles of Nerve and Heart Cure made me feel like a new person. My heart is all right and my nervousness is all gone. I never fail to recommend it to others afflicted as I was." All druggists sell and guarantee first bottle Dr. Miles' Remedies. Send for free book on Nervous and Heart Diseases. Bright's Disease.

The largest sum ever paid for a prescription, changed hands in San Francisco Aug. 30, 1901. The transfer involved in coin and stock $112,500.00 and was paid by a party of business men for a specific for Bright's Disease and Diabetes, hitherto incurable disease.

They commenced the serious investigation of the specific Nov. 15, 1900. They interviewed scores of the cured and tried it out on its merits by putting over three dozen cases on the treatment and watching them. They also got physicians to name chronic, incurable cases, and administered it with the physicians for judges. Up to Aug. 23, eighty-seven per cent of the test cases were either well or progressing favorably.

There being but thirteen per cent of failures, the parties were satisfied and closed the transaction. The proceedings of the investigating committee and the clinical reports of the test cases were published and will be mailed free on application. Address John J.
